GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

Order No:-

Applications for the grant of House Building Advances under Revised Article No.199 of the Civil Account Code, Vol. I, 5th Edition, are now being received and sent up freely from various quarters for Government sanction, which cannot be expected as a matter of course at all times and in all cases. There have been several instances in which sanction had to be refused as the applications did not come within the purview of the Codal Rules. Even as regards the applications which do fall under them, there should be a limit, which under the present state of the finances, is absolutely necessary. Govt. cannot afford to be liberal now and would therefore discourage these advances as much as possible for some time to come, granting them only in very special and ~~~~~ cases. Heads of Departments are requested to note the present intention of Govt. and exercise due discrimination and care in sending up these applications in future.

No. 6848-88—Fl. 680, dated Bangalore, 6th March 1901.

Order—Applications for the grant of house-building advances under revised Article No. 136 of the Civil Account Code, Volume I, 5th Edition, and under special orders issued by Government, are now being received and sent up freely from various quarters for Government sanction, which cannot be expected as a matter of course at all times and in all cases. There have been several instances in which sanction had to be refused as the applications did not come within the purview of the Codal Rules and of the special orders. Even as regards applications which do fall under them, there should be a limit, which, under the present state of finances, is absolutely necessary. Government cannot afford to be liberal now and would therefore discourage these advances as much as possible for some time to come, granting them only in very special and needy cases. Heads of Departments are requested to note the present intention of Government and exercise due discrimination and care in sending up these applications in future.
